How to access to EP?

By air

To Barcelona International Airport (if there is no connection to BCN, you have also an alternative via Madrid International Airport and air shuttle “Puente Aereo” with more than 30 flights daily each way). From there, the fastest way is by car (about 35 minutes, depending on traffic). Following the indications always in direction Lleida till link highway A-2 (not AP-2). After approximately 25 km leave A-2 on exit Abrera / Martorell. Rest see “By road (from Barcelona)”.

There is also the possibility to take the railway shuttle from the airport (every 20 minutes) to the city (Plaça Espanya). There you change to line R6 of the Ferrocarrils de la Generalitat de Catalunya (FGC), which brings you to Sant Esteve Sesrovires (which is the 7. stop and it takes about 41 minutes). For the last 1.800 m up to EP you have to call a taxi or us to pick you up.

By road

From west: AP-2 and finally AP-7 till exit Martorell. Follow direction Lleida till exit Ca n’ Amat. Then always direction Ca n’ Amat in straight line (passing SEAT factory). After about 800 m, turn to the left and then the second street to the right is street Galileu, where in the first building is located EP.

Another (and cheaper) alternative is take A-2 till exit Ca n’ Amat. Rest see “From Barcelona”.

From south- west: C-32 and then A-2. Rest see “From Barcelona”.

From north: C-16 till AP-7, then direction Lleida till exit Martorell. Rest see “From west”.

From north- east: AP-7 till exit Martorell. Rest see “From west”.

From Barcelona: Different roads always direction Lleida and link to A-2. After approximately 25 km leave A-2 at exit Abrera / Martorell. Follow direction Ca n’ Amat (not Abrera nor Martorell) and continue in straight line direction Ca n’ Amat (passing SEAT factory). After about 800 m, turn to the left and then the second to the right is street Galileu, where in the first building is located EP.

Another option is to link from the city to AP-2 and further AP-7; you have to exit highway at Martorell. Rest see “From west”.
